

The Daily Courant.

Saturday, January 13. 1705.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Jan. 15.

Rome, December 27.

THE 21st inst. being the last Sunday in Advent, the Pope held a publick Chappel in the Vatican, accompanied by the Sacred College and a great Number of other Persons of Quality; and the same day he gave an Annual Pension of 600 Crowns to Signior Casoni of the Holy Office, and another of 300 Crowns to Signior Davia his Holiness's Nuncio in Poland. The 24th being Christmas Eve, the Pope assisted at the Litanies and Vespers in the Chappel of the Vatican, attended by a great Number of Prelates, &c. After which his Holiness's Officers entertain'd the Sacred College with a Magnificent Supper, in one of the Halls of the Palace. And all the Cardinals who were at this Feast, assisted at the Midnight Mass, Cardinal Colorado chief Penitentiary officiating. On Christmas day the Pope went to the Church of St. Mary Major, in great state. He sung Mass himself, and pronounc'd an Eloquent Sermon concerning the Birth of Christ. He din'd that day in the Quirinal Palace, and at Night return'd to the Vatican. His Holiness has receiv'd the Compliments made him on Occasion of the Holy-days, by the Colledge of Cardinals, the Nobility, and the Forreign Ministers. Yesterday his Holiness sent Signior Rasponi to compliment the Queen Dowager of Poland on the same Occasion, and to make her a Present of Cyder which he had receiv'd from the great Duke of Tuscany. Several Prelates who aspire to the Cardinalship, have taken Occasion during the Hold-days to make noble Presents to Signior Oratio Albani, the Pope's Uncle, as also to his Lady and Sons, to engage them to use their Interest with his Holiness, that they may not be forgotten in the first Promotion he makes: Among the rest, Signior Corfini Treasurer of the Apostolical Chamber gave them as much gilt Plate as is valued at 7000 Crowns. An Envoy from the Viceroy of Naples is arriv'd here, to endeavour to adjust Amicably the Difference between this Court and his Master. There are a great many Malecontents in the Kingdom of Naples, and a certain Number have actually taken Arms and possess'd themselves of a very advantageous Post near Benevento. The Viceroy has sent some Troops to suppress them.

There remain in this Port, her Majesty's Ships the Bedford, Blackwal, Exeter, Hector, Kingston, Medway, Medway's Prize, Mountague, Portland, Dolphin, Weymouth, Hazardeux and Jersey.

Dartmouth, Jan. 9. This day Her Majesty's Ship the Worcester brought in here 2 French Merchant Ships and 1 Privateer which she had taken in her Cruise.

London, Jan. 13. Last Night arriv'd a Mail from Holland which brings the following Advices.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Jan. 17.

Madrid, Jan. 1. The Enemy's Squadron when they went out of the Bay of Gibraltar sail'd over to Tetuana, and waited to be joyn'd by the Ships detach'd from Lisbon with the Succours for the Besieged. The 18th 10 Ships came into the Bay of Gibraltar from the Westward, and anchor'd near the old Mole; 8 others came in the next day. A Deserter reported that the Succours consisted of 5 Battalions, 4 of them English and 1 Dutch, and that if the contrary Wind had not hindred the Arrival of the Baron de Pointis, and given Time to the Enemy to send those Succours, the Place could not have held out long. From that day the Fire from the Place has been redoubled; and the 24th in the Night the Besieged made a Sally and fill'd up part of the Trenches. However, they were repuls'd with Loss; and some of them were taken Prisoners. The 25th the Fascines with which they had endeavour'd to repair their Battery on the Tower, from which Battery they had done considerable Damage to the Besiegers, were set on Fire. A good Number of them ran thither to extinguish the Fire, but could not do it, and many of them were kill'd. The Prisoners reported, that they had 40 Men kill'd and 80 wounded in the Attack of the Trenches: The Besiegers have since work'd to repair the Damage.

The 26th the Prince of Darmstad sent out a Drummer, to demand an Officer that was made Prisoner, and propose a Cartel. He gave him a Passport, in which he took upon himself the Quality of Gentleman of the Bed-Chamber to his Catholick Majesty, and his Vicar General. The Passport was return'd by the Besiegers with an Endorsement, that they knew no such Vicar General, and that all who should bring such Passports should be sent back again, like the Drummer, without being suffer'd to deliver any Letter. 'Tis advis'd from Cadix, that the 16th of last Month 4 of the Enemies Transports sent with Succours from Lisbon to Gibraltar were taken, and in them 400 Soldiers; and the Prisoners report 2 more of those Transports were missing.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Jan. 20.

Amsterdam, Jan. 20. We have receiv'd no Advice yet from any Place but Paris of the 2d Sally made by the Garrison of Verue. Letters of the 7th Instant from Milan say nothing of it. 'Tis written from the Frontier of Savoy, that a Courier had reported the Siege of Verue was rais'd; but there are no positive Advices of it. The Letters we have receiv'd from Turin are dated the 29th of December last, and mention only the Sally made by the Garrison of Verue the 26th. The Account they give of that Sally is this.

The 26th of this Month our Cavalry being order'd to draw together near the Doria pass'd the Po. Count Brainer Lieutenant Collonel commanded the Vanguard, consisting of 200 Horse, with which he advanc'd directly to Brofasco, where he attack'd the Enemy's Guards, who were presently broken, several of them were cut in Pieces, and many taken Prisoners; which caus'd a great Alarm in the Enemy's Camp. Then our Cavalry was drawn up in Order of Battallia, and the Governour of the Place made a Sally at the same Time, with 2000 Men to attack the Trenches. Monsieur de Staremberg, Brother of the General of that Name, commanded the the Attack on the Right, and the Baron de St. Remi that on the Left. While these were engag'd a 3d Sally was made by a Body of Grenadiers. Our Men had the good Fortune to drive the Enemy before them, and possess themselves of all their Batteries. Our Troops staid 3 Hours in the Trenches; but at length retir'd, because they wanted a sufficient Number of Workmen to level intirely the Enemies Works. All the Enemy's Mortars were nail'd, 1 excepted; but only the Battery on the Counter-scarp was quite ruin'd, because some of the Nails were not fit for the Service, and our Men had not Time enough to nail the Guns of the other Batteries sufficiently. The Enemy sprung one of their Mines, which level'd part of their Works, and buried many of their own Men. All those the Besieged found in the Branches of the Trenches were kill'd.

In this Action we had 150 Men kill'd or wounded; among them 1 Lieutenant Colonel, 1 Major, and 3 Captains. The Enemy lost 4 or 500 Men; among them Monsieur de Charogne Lieutenant General, who was taken Prisoner, and carried to the Camp of Crescentino where he died of his Wounds. Our Men took above 50 Officers Prisoners. But what was of more Importance to the Besieged of Verue, was their discovering the Enemies Mines, 2 of which they fill'd up. If this Advantage does not oblige the Enemy to abandon the Siege, it will at least hinder their taking the Place till the end of January. The Cold and the Mire incommode them extremely, and many of their Soldiers have been found dead of Cold, when others have come to relieve them. However, they began again yesterday to fire from a Battery of 21 Guns, and that firing continues: But a greater Fire is made from the Place; and incommodes them more than the bad Season.
